

victuals proportionably; and believeth that the Jesus had most of all; for that she had in her, much provision for the relief of all the fleet in time of need.

And the company in the William and Mary, being [evidently after their separation from HAWKINS] in necessity of meal; he did buy meal about 140 leagues on this side of the haven of Vera Cruz, after the rate of 40 Rials of Plate [=£i] the English bushel; which is at the rate of £7 sterling for every barrel of meal.

HUMPHREY PONES, Steward of the Angel.

There was in the Angel at the time she was sunk, if butts of Canary wine, 2 barrels and more of meal, i hogshead of pickled pork, i hogshead of rice, 3 hogsheads of pease, 250 stock fish, i butt of maize, i butt of biscuit, 24 dried sheep, and i hogshead of beer : for this Deponent, being the Steward, of the Angel, did make these sorts and quantities of victuals the better; and knoweth that the other ships were provided of the same kind of victuals, every one agreeing to their burden and bigness.
